PREPARATION COURSE FOR PAU (Preparation for Spanish University entry exams)

This course is specifically tailored to students hoping to be admitted to Spanish universities (both public and private). This Enforex course helps students improve their Spanish in order to be able to effectively study for the exam. The Prueba de Acceso a la Universidad (PAU) is the standard university admissions exam required by the Spanish Ministry of Education. Our courses are designed to help prospective students acquire the knowledge necessary to pass the exam, as well as to assist them in the application process for the institution of their choice. Available in two formats of five and eight months respectively.

eduSpain UNIVERSITY PATHWAY 24 – 36 months

The eduSpain Pathway Program for International Students is a 24 – 36 month program, designed for international students who wish to complete an undergraduate degree, master or doctoral study in any Spanish University. In this program, international students fast-track their education by combining language and credit studies. WStudents complete first-year university completing Spanish courses to meet the language requirements for university

UNDERGRADUATE: DEGREE

Undergraduate studies are the first level of teaching in the new University order, which is reached with a Baccalaureate or equivalent qualification, and by passing the University entrance exam (PAU). Graduate qualifications are divided into the following categories: Arts and Humanities, Sciences, Health Sciences, Social legal and Educational Sciences and Engineering and Architecture.

MASTERS STUDIES

Upon completion of the undergraduate degree program, successful graduates have two options: to join the workforce or continue their studies for a Masters degree which complements their previous studies with further specialization. The Masters degree program has a duration of 1 to 2 years (60 or 120 ECTS) involving either professional training or academic research. At the end of the Masters program an oral public presentation of a thesis or research project is required and counts for a minimum of 6 and a maximum of 30 credits.

DOCTORAL STUDIES

The objective of Doctoral studies is to further master the skills and method of research in the student's chosen field of study. The two components of study for the Doctorate degree comprise of courses and the writing and defense of adoctoral dissertation. A research-oriented Master's degree (or its equivalent issued by a European Higher Education Space university) is required to gain entry into the Doctoral program. Degree-holding students with a minimum of the 60 credits required in one or more Masters programs may gain access to the Doctoral program, as well as those students in possession of a research-orientated Undergraduate degree with at least 300 credits.

The Universidad Europea de Madrid, founded in 1995, is a private university with more than 11,000 students and forms part of the Laureate International Universities group, an international association of private universities with more than 400.000 students in 18 countries. Its multidisciplinary offerings are complemented with three specialized schools in business, sports management, and architecture/ engineering.

UNIVERSIDAD DE HUELVA

The Universidad de Huelva with more than 11,000 students is a young institution, founded in 1993, to offer numerous and varied degrees adapted to the social, economic and cultural idiosyncratic characteristics of Huelva and its province, including forestry and environmental studies which take advantage of its proximity to the Doñana national wildlife reserve.

UNIVERSIDAD DE SALAMANCA

The Universidad de Salamanca is one of the oldest universities in the world, founded in 1218. Some of the most famous Spanish intellectuals in the fields of literature, philosophy, law, and music have studied or taught there. It has 30,000 Spanish students and 5,000 international students in sixteen buildings, and six Schools. It is responsible for composing and correcting the Spanish language exams, DELE (Diploma de Español como Lengua Extranjera) which are the only ones officially recognized by the Spanish government.

EAE BUSINESS SCHOOL

Founded over 50 years ago in 1958 and having prepared over 52,000 Spanish and international executives, EAE has centers in Barcelona and Madrid. It offers degrees in business administration and tourism, and through its association with the Universidad Camilo José Cela in Madrid, a further 12 undergraduate and 10 masters degrees. It is characterized by effectively combining practical with theoretical approaches to business studies.

CETT BARCELONA

CETT Barcelona, is an international center for education and knowledge transfer in hotel management and tourism. Additional services

VISA: support to get it

Before arriving in Spain you must obtain the student residence visa (visado de estancia por estudios) from the Spanish consulate in your country of origin or legal residence. You can find your consulate on the website of the Spanish Ministry of Foreign Affairs.

To apply for a visa, you need an accreditation of acceptance on a eduSpain study programme, among other documents. You can request this accreditation from:

- www.eduspain.com/en/requirements_and_visas
- Please, ask our academic advisor.

"EMPADRONAMIENTO": support or personal assistance (Registration of residency)

All those who plan to spend longer than 90 days in Spain will need to apply for residency status (residencia).

Registering on the padrón is not only an official requirement, it also brings a number of benefits such as access to some aspects of social care (after a certain period of time), potential reductions in a number of charges and taxes, discounts on courses/activities organised by the Town Hall and also voting rights in local and European elections. The padrón certificate is also required for other things such as healthcare, education and obtaining Spanish number plates for your car.

eduSpain student's opinions

I am very grateful to EduSpain for their professional consultations and help to enter University of Barcelona. In a very short period, we gathered all the necessary documents, organized and passed all the meetings. For all my questions and doubts, I always had fast and professional responses. Now I am studying in Spain to attain Master's degree and I am happy to recommend EduSpain for young people who want to do the same."

Armine Shaginyan

Desde el principio ha sido un reto dado a que había que gestionar el aprendizaje del español previo al Master, preinscripción para el postgrado, el visado de estudiante, etc. Eduspain nos ha ofrecido una solución integral, básicamente gracias a ellos ha sido posible finalmente para los estudiantes kurdos venir a España. Las gestiones han sido agiles, instrucciones claras, todas las dudas tanto de estudiantes como de nuestra oficina como encargada de gestionar las becas han sido resueltas de manera profesional."

Daria Monastyrskaia

Cuando decidí estudiar un master en la Universidad de Barcelona, Empecé a buscar alguna persona o empresa en España que me ayudara a recoger todos los documentos y contactara con la Universidad. Encontré la empresa Eduspain que me proporcionaba toda la información sobre los programas de master que en aquel momento tenía la Universidad. Casi cada día durante el periodo de preparación de los documentos contactaba con Eduspain, que siempre atendían a mis preguntas y dudas. Gracias a ellos, ingresé en la Universidad y ya acabé mi master. Ahora trabajo en una compañía internacional en el extranjero."

F.A.Q. Frequently asked questions

What do I need to be able to study in Spain?

- A passport, which complies with official regulations.
- Signed and valid for at least six months.
 A visa. You can apply for a student visa at your nearest Spanish Embassy or Consulate in your country.
- If you want to take an official, certified program at a Spanish university, you must have legitimate documentation of your academic qualifications so that they can be recognized in Spain. These documents are not required for Spanish language and culture courses or for any non-official program which is not State approved.

Do I need a high level of Spanish to study at a Spanish university?

Yes, in most universities you will have to take a test to confirm your linguistic ability. Universities may also consider the student's résumé to verify this ability.

What other requirements are needed to study at a Spanish university?

If you have not studied at a University in your own country: You must submit the relevant documentation to the Ministry of Education in Spain to confirm your secondary education. All the documents that you bring must be official and issued by able authorities, in accordance with the legal regulations of your country. If you are from a country which has signed the "Hague Convention", a document which has been certified with a conformant "apostille" will be accepted for legal use. If you are from a Member State of the European Union or a country which has signed the "European Economic Area Agreement", you will not be required to provide any form of legalization. For every other country, documents must be legalized through diplomatic channels. The confirmation of these entrance requirements is carried out by the "Universidad Nacional de Educación a Distancia", (UNED).

Furthermore, if you are coming from a country whose education system does not belong to one of the member States of the European Union or does not have bilateral agreements with Spain in terms of education; you will have to pass a series of aptitude tests to be able to study at a University in Spain. These are called "Pruebas de Áptitud para el Acceso a la Universidad (PAU)" in Spain. There are specific entrance exams for foreign students, organized by the UNED. If you have already studied at a University in your own country and you wish to continue your studies in Spain, you must apply for a partial validation for the part of your degree vou have taken so far.

How long does the process of authorizing and validating my studies in Spain take? Approximately three months from the time you apply to the final decision.

What requirements do I need to be able to do a Masters in a Spanish university? You must have a university degree and in some cases, you will need to authorize it with the equivalent Spanish degree through the "Ministry of Science and Innovation".

How long does it take to study for a Degree and for a Masters in Spain?

It takes 4 or 5 years to study for a Degree and from 7 months to 2 years to study for a Masters.

If I fulfill the entrance requirements for a Spanish university, can I enroll in any degree course through eduSpain?

Not in all cases. There are certain universities which, because of their exceptional merits, require self improvement and personal development of the same. Furthermore, each university has limited quotas for admissions of foreign students. However, Eduspain is in charge of coordinating everything to make this procedure easier.

Con cuánto tiempo de antelación tengo que solicitar entrar en una universidad española?

Para estudios de Grado es conveniente comenzar el proceso de solicitud a eduSpain un año antes del curso académico en el que desee ingresar. En el caso de Máster es suficiente con hacerlo 5 ó 6 meses antes de comenzar.

¿How much does it cost to do a Degree or a Masters in Spain?

- A Degree at a public university costs, on average, 1,000 euros per academic year.
- A Degree at a private university costs, on average, 6,300 euros per academic year.
- A Masters costs from 4,000 to 30,000 euros, depending on where you study, for how long you study etc.

Is it possible to get a grant for my studies?

Although it is not impossible, a grant is very difficult to get. eduSpain can give you some information about the opportunities it can give before you decide to start the application process.
